

Examples of Occupational Skill Sets National Guard Members Learn Through Continuous Training

These photos were taken by National Guard and Army photographers during actual deployments of the National Guard when called out to aid in dealing with hurricanes, floods and other natural disasters.

In all, the National Guard trains in 107 occupational specialties, with most relevant to civilian jobs.

What skill sets does your company need that National Guard members can bring to your workplace?

Assembling and Operating Power Equipment to Keep Polling Places Open During Sandy

New York Army National Guard; Photo by Sgt. 1st Class Jon Soucy

Operating and Repairing Construction Equipment to Save Homes in Storm Surges

New Jersey National Guard; Photo by Master Sgt. Mark C. Olsen

Providing Vital Medical Services in All Types of Situations When Seconds Count

National Guard photo by Tech. Sgt. Melissa E. Chatham, DC National Guard

Organizing Teams to Manage Big Projects With Life or Death Consequences

Photo by New York National Guard

For information on how your company can support American Jobs for America's Heroes, please contact Steve Nowlan, President, Center for America at SNowlan@CenterForAmerica.org or 201-513-0379
Learn more about the campaign and register for posting: www.CenterForAmerica.org

Mastering Complex Machinery Using Sophisticated Electronic Displays

North Carolina National Guard; Photo by Tech. Sgt. Parker Gyokeres

Repairing Old Apartment Electrical Systems in the Middle of a Hurricane

Photo by Sgt. Sara Yoke, West Virginia ARNG

Managing Large Fleets of Vehicles on Which People Depend for Their Lives

Photo by Sgt. Rashawn D. Price, Louisiana Army National Guard

Managing and Maintaining Power and Water Purification Equipment for a Whole Community

Photo by Lt. Col. Timothy E. Moran, North Carolina Air National Guard

Helping to Manage International Operations Using the Latest in Global Communications

U.S. Army Photo by Sgt. 1st Class Jon Soucy

Driving Heavy Trucks with Snow Plows to Safely Clear Unfamiliar Roads for Ambulances

Photo by Sgt. 1st Class A.J. Coyne, Virginia Guard